Children’s Literature and Learner Empowerment
Children and Teenagers in English Language Education
By Janice Bland

“This is a comprehensive, innovative, thought-provoking and topical book on children’s literature which is equally relevant to scholars working in the field plus to teachers and students of languages and literature.” Werner Delanoy, Professor in the Department of English and American Studies, University of Klagenfurt, Austria

This text provides a comprehensive introduction to children’s and young adult literature in EFL teaching. It demonstrates the complexity of children’s literature and how it can encourage an active community of second language readers: with multilayered picturebooks, fairy tales, graphic novels and radical young adult fiction. It examines the opportunities of children’s literature in EFL teacher education, including: the intertextuality of children’s literature as a gate-opener for canonised adult literature; the rich patterning of children’s literature supporting Creative Writing; the potential of interactive drama projects. Close readings of texts at the centre of contemporary literary scholarship, yet largely unknown in the EFL world, provide an invaluable guide for teacher educators and student teachers, including works by David Almond, Anthony Browne, Philip Pullman and J.K.Rowling.
